

New Adjunct Faculty Orientation to
Distance & Accelerated Learning
at College of the Canyons

James Glapa-Grossklag
Dean of Learning Resources

Learning Outcome

- By the end of this presentation, you will be able to explain the different class delivery formats available at College of the Canyons.

Overview of Distance & Accelerated Learning

- Programs Offered at College of the Canyons:
 - Online Classes
 - Hybrid Classes
 - Go! Online Classes
 - Personalized Accelerated Learning (PAL)
 - Weekend College

Online & Hybrid Classes

- Online & Hybrid classes
 - Online classes have no face to face meetings and are taught using an online learning management system
 - Hybrid classes are considered online classes that happen to have some scheduled on-campus meeting times
 - Full-term & compressed
 - Offered fall, winter, spring, summer
 - Variety of subjects
- Go! Classes
 - 5 week accelerated online courses
 - Offered fall, spring
 - Variety of subjects

Personalized Accelerated Learning (PAL)

- Links 2 or 3 English or math courses to be taken in one semester
- Students have the same instructor and same classmates for both linked classes (cohort)
- Allows students to complete English or math prerequisites quicker
- Accelerated classes
- Orientation required before students can sign up

Weekend College

- Pilot program starting fall 2014
- 1 year program
- GE requirements for an Associates Degree
- Online/hybrid classes
- Saturdays at the Canyon Country Campus
- Orientation required before students can sign up

The Benefits of Online Learning to Our Students and the Local Community

Convenience and flexibility

- Flexible schedule/ease of accessibility: Access the course at any time, so you can continue to fulfill work, family and other commitments!
- Control of study time: Unlike more rigid face-to-face meeting formats, students can choose how long to work on coursework in a single sitting.

Student enrichment

- Time to absorb material: Due to the more flexible schedule of online classes, students can take more time to review or revisit presented material, etc.
- Online communication: Some students may be more inclined to approach an instructor in an online setting rather than face-to-face.
- Interaction Opportunities: Some students may feel more comfortable interacting in the online space than they would in a face-to-face class. Students may have more time to think about a response, which can increase interaction as well.

Cost-effectiveness

- Transportation costs
- Babysitting
- Parking passes
- Open educational resources (including textbooks)

Services and Support Available From Distance & Accelerated Learning Office

- Instructional design
- Instructor orientation letters
- Certification to teach online
- DECT Captioning Grant
- Workshops
 - 3C Media Solutions
 - CCCConfer
 - Open Textbooks
 - One-on-one Distance Learning Coaching
 - Blackboard Training (for online or face-to-face instructors)

Instructor Orientation Letters

- Online and hybrid faculty are asked to submit an “orientation letter” to our department for us to share on our website
- Helps students find the right class when registering
- Sets the tone from the instructor to the student for the online or hybrid class
- Due to our office before term schedule is posted online (so that students can see the letters during the class search)

Training & Certification for Online/Hybrid Teaching

Effective September 2006, as approved by the Academic Senate:

- Prior to teaching online, an instructor must complete the following (or the equivalent):
 - 6 hours of Blackboard training
 - Workshops offered on campus throughout the year
 - 1 hour Section 508/accessibility workshop
 - Workshops offered on campus throughout the year
 - 2 credit College-level course in online teaching strategies
 - At COC, the course Introduction to Online Teaching and Learning fulfills this requirement
 - Offered online through the Institute of Teaching and Learning
 - Typically offered once or twice per year
 - Equivalent course available through @ONE (www.onefortraining.org)
